No flag but the Old Flag—the Red, White and Blue
With the stars of a Union unbroken and true;
Arise and defend it ye sons of the brave
Whose blood bought the banner your valor must save

SATURDAY MORNING, JUNE 6, 1863

The News

We have no dispatch this morning, the wires being down By the San Francisco papers we learn that the Sonora arrived on the 28th ult, bringing the newspaper mails to the 1st of May, and nearly 800 passengers There is a rumor by her that the Transit Route through Nicaragua has again been interrupted, the river steamers having been seized and put out of the reach of their managers. If this statement is true, a large number of passengers going each way will be seriously delayed, or compelled to go to Panama This report is not believed by the agents of the line, who are confident that all causes of difficulty have been settled

Primary elections for the choice of Delegates to the Union Convention have been held and it is supposed that Stanford and Lowe, the rival candidates for Governor, will be about equally represented

The steamer Brother Jonathan arrived at San Francisco on the 29th ult, with $139,000 in treasure

Rebel Sympathy in Victoria —We are informed by a friend, just returned from Victoria, where he happened to be on the Queen's Birthday, that generally the American flag was treated with becoming respect on that anniversary, especially at the hotels and by the firemen but that J, Nagle & Co, shipping and commercial agents, hoisted the rebel ensign, and seemed to glory in the base distinction of being the only business house which so disgraced itself As these men have been in the habit of making a considerable money out of Americans, we hope their shameful conduct will be remembered by loyal citizens of the United States, and that they will not be allowed to show their secession proclivities, and then permitted to speculate upon the business of Union men

Commodore Spencer, of H B M ship Topaze, also gave a ball in honor of the same occasion on board his vessel, where among other flags recognized by his Government as having a nationality, he displayed the miserable emblem of rebellion Such an act was highly disgraceful and malicious, for it was a wanton insult to the Americans present, as well as to a friendly Government We regret the commission of such indignities, and trust that the ill natured spirit which prompted them is not shared by the great body of the citizens or British officers at Victoria

Internal Revenue Law.—The man who keeps making some new discovery as to things not taxed, which ought to be, has recently made the following decisions, and we are surprised to see that he has found that acknowledgments of deeds are not required to be stamped—a decision that will deserve the attention of magistrates and notaries

The ordinary acknowledgment by the grantor of a deed before a Justice of the Peace, Notary Public or other officer, is exempt from stamp duty The ordinary form of affidavit before a Justice of the Peace or other authorized officer to administer oaths, is liable to a stamp duty of five cents, the jurat affixed by the officer being held to be a certificate

The manure purchased by farmers to maintain their lands in present productive condition will be allowed as repairs, in estimating the income of farmers Dividends payable or paid in 1862 must be considered as part of the income for that year Dividends declared prior to January 1, 1863, but not payable till on or after that date, must be returned as income of 1863

Under a provision in the Act of March 3d last, any instrument, document or paper made, signed or issued on and after June 1st next, without being duly stamped, shall for that cause be invalid This is highly important provision, and will compel a general observance of the Stamp Law

Grand Corporation — Capt John Mullan, U. S Army, has resigned, and has been appointed Commissioner in the city of New York, for the Walla Walla Pacific Railroad Company in Washington Territory The Company has a working capital of $6 000,000 "

So says an Eastern paper, which also announces the Captain's marriage at Baltimore; but we are somewhat dubious about that six million capital, or where it works. We never heard of it here, and if it works at all, its operations are very quiet

The Dalles City Council.—This enterprising body has recently passed an Ordinance inflicting heavy taxes, called licenses upon the industrious population of the sandy city, and especially upon the dealers in things to eat and drink This unprecedented outrage upon the rights of men and things has justly aroused the indignation of the victims and so it is proposed to test the loyalty of the Ordinance

Startling Intelligence —The State Journal, of yesterday, announces that the present war all results from something about the "nigger," and tries to prove it by nearly a column of words, in which the colored person is frequently mentioned This novel statement will probably surprise every body who sees it, and we publish it that all may know the source of such an original idea

The steamer Brother Jonathan is advertised to leave San Francisco for this port direct, on Monday next, the 8th inst

Fighting Next Fall —Notwithstanding the pretence of military activity in all the armies of the Union, there are some reasons for believing that the Administration is disposed to stand on the defensive during the Spring and Summer, and adjourn its active operations on land until next Fall On this point the intelligent and well-informed Washington correspondent of the Boston Traveller says

It is far better to look the matter squarely in the face and be prepared for what is coming. We may now win many important victories this Spring This is one of the possibilities, and it seems to me a probability But we shall win great victories before the year ends The Rebels have all the force in the field they can ever put there, while we are to fill up the wasted ranks of the old regiments under the conscription act this Summer In great fighting of the war will take place next Autumn I know that such is the expectation of our military chiefs It is not expected that we shall win such victories this Spring as will put an end to the rebellion They will come at the close of the year

The reasons, good and bad which have inclined the military administration to postpone fighting, or rather general offensive operations, until Fall are probably such as follows

1 The belief that the South is suffering for the necessaries of life, and that a prolongation of the war until next Autumn will add to its financial and military embarrassments

2 The knowledge that notwithstanding the deficiency of food and the worthlessness of Confederate currency, the Southern army was never so well organized, disciplined, efficient, or numerous as now while at the same time the Union army, owing to the thinned ranks of the old regiments and the near approach of the end of the term of service of the two years and nine months men is not in as high a state of efficiency as it is capable of attaining with full ranks, composed of men having a long time to serve

3 An American Spring in Southern latitudes can hardly be depended upon for military operations — it is a rainy and stormy season, and the weather suitable for marching and fighting at most lasts but a few weeks — During Summer, of course, there can be no fighting, but Autumn is the season of the year for campaigns on this continent,

4 The machinery of the complicated conscription bill cannot be put into operation so as to add to the force in the army much before midsummer, and time will be required to drill the green troops before pitting them against the enemy

5 The Administration undoubtedly believes that if the Union armies do not advance those of the Confederates must There is every reason for the South to wish to force the fighting, and this will give the Union Generals the advantage of receiving the enemy in entrenched positions instead of attacking them in their fortified strongholds

Beecher on Southern Submission —The following is from the N Y Independent, Henry Ward Beecher's paper

We see no substantial evidence that the South is yet discouraged What legislature, convention, or influential man even, has uttered a desponding word? The spirit of the people is not broken. With a few exceptions the intelligent prisoners who are taken hold one language, and that is of firm resolute, bitter determination to resist to the uttermost Nor can we learn that those who stay at home and suffer great deprivations, are weary or discouraged Even when hunger drives women to riot and violence, it is remarkable that they demand 'bread' but never say "peace" Indeed, we are free to say that we cannot repress our admiration of the conduct of the Southern people in this terrible struggle It needs only a heroic cause to be regarded as heroic. They seek to establish a detestable system of slavery They seek for that end the overthrow of a beneficent Government. Their cause is as bad as it well can be Nevertheless, they have given up all things for what they regard as their country They have relinquished luxuries, submitted to hardships, suffered bereavements and losses, not only without murmuring, but eagerly; and after two years of trials that may be said almost to have revolutionized the interior of Southern society, and reduced them to the minimum of comfort, they are undiscouraged They are even more fierce and bitter than ever

The prospect of starving rebellion does not seem very cheering, The summers of the South come round too quick Men that could march as Jackson's army did into Maryland, almost without a commissariat and eating green corn for rations, plucked from the fields for each day's use, are not likely to starve on cornmeal and green herbs Already early garden crops are coming into Southern markets We don't object to a fair share of starvation as a part of a military necessity but we confess to a little shame when we hear men taking it for granted that the North is playing a trencher game, and does with the knife and fork what it cannot do with the sword '

Magnanimity —In the recent movements of Stoneman's cavalry, the advance was made by Lieutenant Paine of the First Maine Cavalry Being separated from the main body, he encountered unexpectedly a superior force of rebel cavalry and his whole party were taken prisoners They were hurried off rapidly and in crossing a rapid and deep stream Lieutenant Henry, commanding the rebel force was swept off his horse As none of his men seemed to care anything about saving him his prisoner Lieutenant Paine leaped off his horse, seized the drowning man by the collar, swam ashore with him and saved his life, thus literally capturing his captor He was sent to Richmond with the rest of the prisoners and the facts being made known to General Fitzhugh Lee he wrote a statement of them to General Winder Provost Marshal of Richmond, who ordered the instant release of Lieutenant Paine, without parole promise or condition On the arrival of Paine in Washington he found his late captor there a prisoner

Vallandigham's Last —Vallandigham the infamous Ohio ex-Congressman, charged, in a recent speech, that the President is responsible for the war ' Responsible because first the Government refused the mediation of Napoleon for the settlement of our domestic affairs and second because ' information came' from somebody in Richmond to somebody in New York ' that there was a disposition' with somebody, somewhere ' to return delegates to Congress and be obedient to the Constitution and laws,' which information was not acted on That will do

The Southern Aristocracy —The London Times argues that the rebel aristocracy are fighting for their position—that they constitute a better class than can exist at the North, and may be expected to monopolize all the elements of power, coherence and command ' That is just the impudent claim that the rebel leaders themselves assert The result of the war will determine how much of the nobility and standing there is in an aristocracy created by African slavery

The Commissioner of the General Land Office is preparing forms of applications, schedules, and other necessary papers for taking up lands under the recent act of Congress providing for the establishment of State Agricultural Colleges A number of States have already signified their intentions to avail themselves of the act

The position of Russia on the Polish question, says a Parisian correspondent, may be thus summed up Russia will grant certain concessions to the Poles and will faithfully carry them out, but she will fight all Europe rather than renounce her sovereignty over the disputed territory, and there is no State in Europe willing to go war for the independence of that territory

Particulars of the Naval Engagement on Grand Lake, La —The New Orleans Era publishes the particulars of the fight which occurred April 14th on Grand Lake between three Federal gunboats—the Calhoun, Estrella, and Arizona—under command of Commodore Cook, and the rebel ram Queen of the West under command of Capt. A J Fuller and other rebel vessels, which resulted in the destruction of the ram and the loss of a part of her crew and the capture of her commander and about eighty men,

It appears that on the morning of the 14th at six o'clock, the rebel ram Queen of the West, in company with the Lizzie Simmons, (the latter used as a transport, and carrying about 500) commenced the assault on our little fleet Firing began as soon as the vessels got in range, and had not progressed long before an incendiary percussion shell, fired from the bow pivot gun of the Calhoun, at a distance of about one mile and a quarter, fell on the deck of the ram, crushing through her deck and steam drum, and exploding set her on fire As soon as the ram was found to be on fire her crew jumped into the water and attempted to swim ashore, about four miles off, but they were mostly picked up by our boats After burning twenty minutes the fire reached the magazine, and the career of this celebrated boat was closed Our boats were in the mean time busy picking up the fugitive rebels from the water One of the boats approached a bale of cotton, to which were clinging a white man and two negroes The white man called out, 'I am Capt. Fuller, save me!' He and the contrabands were got in the boat when the captain soon discovered another bale with a paymaster hanging to it He called the attention of our men to it, and they secured the paymaster The day before this Capt Fuller made a speech to his men, in which he told them that he was going down with the Queen of the West and the Lizzie Simmons to sink our fleet or drive them into the Gulf The crew of the Queen numbered seventy five men, with sixty men from the Third Maryland artillery who were on board as sharp shooters. After the destruction of the ram, the Lizzie Simmons took to flight and was pursued by the Arizona, But before overtaking her, she was signalized by the Commodore of the fleet to return. It is probable Commodore Cook feared that the Arizona might fall into a trap similar to that in which the Diana fell, if she attempted to pursue the Simmons into the bayou to which she retreated

The rebel loss in this brilliant affair is about 125 or 130 men, including several officers, their most formidable gunboat and a large amount of ammunition and provisions Not a man was injured on our side

The Secret —A gentleman was walking over his farm with a friend, exhibiting his crops herds of cattle, and flocks of sheep, with all of which he was highly pleased, but with nothing so much as with his splendid sheep He had seen the same breed frequently before, but had never seen such noble specimens, and with great earnestness he asked how he had succeeded in raising such flocks His simple answer was 'I take care of my lambs, sir' Here was all the secret, he took care of his lambs Reader father, mother, teacher, need we make the application

Petition for Pardon —We were shown yesterday a petition with some 600 names attached, praying the Governor to pardon a youth by the name of William Hess, who has been recently sentenced by the Circuit Judge of Yamhill county to three years imprisonment of the penitentiary for stealing a horse Many of the signature are the names of respectable and influential citizens of Yamhill and Washington counties, whose request will probably have some effect upon the Governor We know nothing of the merits of the case except as stated in the petition a company [illegible] papers, &c, but doubt not Gov Gibbs will do justice to all parties concerned

Pyrotechnist Wanted —The Committee of Arrangements for the celebration of the coming Fourth, want a skillful pyrotechnist to take charge of and manage an exhibition of fireworks on that occasion None but a skillful and intelligent operator need apply See advertisement

Recorder's Court —In the dark ages, Friday was looked upon as an unlucky day and even now the superstitious so regard it and refrain from doing certain things on that day But that day is yet to come on which some people will not get drunk, good luck or bad William Clarke (not our clever Marshall, however) did not germinate from a superstitious family, and is an offspring of no such ignorant and foolish ideas; ergo he went in on a big drunk and was hauled up before Recorder McCoy, who made him pay a fine of five dollars and costs for violating one of our city ordinances It is an ill wind that blows no good Clarke was out that amount but the city treasury was replenished so much Luck was against him, after all We wish no harm to any one, but hope that all those who get drunk will have sufficient funds left to pay all fines imposed—particularly between now and next Wednesday evening, as we desire to see the City Council put through that seven hundred dollar appropriation to help celebrate the Fourth

Business in this Court closed tranquilly yesterday with one case

Great Attraction —To night Miss L H Medina's celebrated three act Drama, entitled "Nick of the Woods," will be played at the Willamette Theatre, in which Mr Waldron is to personate six different characters, Miss Edith Mitchell will also appear as "Telia Doe," in this great play The character and scenes of this play are taken from the many thrilling incidents which have occurred in the early history of this continent, when the red man of the forest attempted to beat back the aggressive approach of the white man, whose presence was certain destruction to all the fond hopes and free privileges of these proud monarchs of the soil, and we have no doubt that the representation of these familiar [illegible] scenes, to-night, will prove highly entertaining, and we hope to see a crowded house We must confess our astonishment, to use no more positive word, that the attendance for the past week has been so slim when the entertainment offered was so inviting There is no disputing the assertion that the present troupe playing is the best theatrical company ever before seen upon the stage in this city, every one of whom are respectable, intelligent and honorable delineators of the legitimate drama Their entertainments are strictly moral chaste and elegant affording much intellectual amusement and lessons of instruction, which would do any one no harm but probably some good to go and see How much better would it be, saying nothing of the moral influences, if many young gentlemen (and we could name several married ones too) of our acquaintance, who are in the habit of almost nightly congregating around the card tables, billiard rooms, and spending dollars in worse than foolish amusements which will do them no good, but probably much harm,—we ask, how much better would it be, more genteel, profitable and beneficial, if they would spend their evenings in the society of their lady friends, wives and families and when they sought amusement to take them to a respectable, intelligent and instructive entertainment thus not only pleasing themselves but their lovely friends and bosom companions also? Then again, when there is a genuine, high toned, first class theatrical troupe in the city, who, when they advertise to play a piece may be expected to do it properly and faithfully interestingly and intelligently they should be patronized and encouraged rather than the common, low bred and vicious [illegible] Melodian' style of performers and "negro delineators, who go rambling round the country, sowing seeds of vice and immorality, to be harvested by the young and foolish, but who we fear receive too much encouragement from our people But we desist from saying more at this time leaving each reader to judge for himself and act accordingly

PETITION FOR PARDON.—We were shown yesterday, a petition with some 600 names attached, praying the Governor to pardon a youth by the name of William Hess, who has been recently sentenced by the Circuit Judge of Yamhill county to three years imprisonment of the penitentiary for stealing a horse. Many of the signature are the names of respectable and influential citizens of Yamhill and Washington counties, whose request will probably have some effect upon the Governor. We know nothing of the merits of the case, except as stated in the petition, accompanying papers, &c., but doubt not Gov. Gibbs will do justice to all parties concerned.

PYROTECHNIST WANTED.—The Committee of Arrangements for the celebration of the coming Fourth, want a skillful pyrotechnist to take charge of and manage an exhibition of fireworks on that occasion. None but a skillful and intelligent operator need apply. See advertisement.

RECORDER'S COURT.—In the dark ages, Friday was looked upon as an unlucky day; and even now the superstitious so regard it, and refrain from doing certain things on that day. But that day is yet to come on which some people will not get drunk, good luck or bad. William Clarke (not our clever Marshall, however) did not germinate from a superstitious family, and is an offspring of no such ignorant and foolish ideas, ergo he went in on a big drunk and was hauled up before Recorder McCoy, who made him pay a fine of five dollars and costs for violating one of our city ordinances. It is an ill wind that blows no good: Clarke was out that amount, but the city treasury was replenished so much. Luck was against him, after all. We wish no harm to any one, but hope that all those who get drunk will have sufficient funds left to pay all fines imposed—particularly between now and next Wednesday evening, as we desire to see the City Council put through that seven hundred dollar appropriation to help celebrate the Fourth.

Business in this Court closed tranquilly yesterday with one case.

GOOD TIME.—We are informed that the steamer John H. Couch towed up the bark Samuel Merritt from the mouth of the Columbia in the shortest time yet made by any boat in bringing up a vessel. The Couch is fast gaining an enviable reputation in our waters.

ARRIVED.—The bark Samuel Merritt, Capt. Jas. Williams, from San Francisco the 29th ult., arrived yesterday. Following is her memorandum and manifest:

[illegible] —The Clipper Bark Sam'l Merritt, Capt. Jas. Williams, left San Francisco May 29th; experienced light westerly winds and fine weather; passed the [illegible] May 30, 7 A. [illegible] ATTRACTION.—To night Miss L. H. [illegible]'s celebrated three act Drama, entitled "[illegible] of the Woods," will be played at the Willamette Theatre, in which Mr. Waldron is to personate six different characters; Miss Edith Mitchell will also appear as "Tetia Doe," in this great play. The character and [illegible] of this play are taken from the many thrilling incidents which have occurred in the early history of this continent, when the red man of the forest attempted to beat back the [illegible] approach of the white man, whose [illegible] was certain destruction to all the fond hopes and free privileges of these proud monarchs of the soil; and we have no doubt that the representation of these familiar [illegible] scenes, to-night, will prove highly entertaining, and we hope to see a crowded house. DR. D. JAYNES'
EXPECTORANT
AND SANATIVE PILLS

HAVE BEEN BEFORE THE PUBLIC SO LONG, and found such general favor in every region of country where they have been sold, that there is no place on the civilized globe where they have not been sold, that it would seem almost superfluous at this time to direct attention to them through the medium of the press. Yet it is due to suffering humanity, and especially to that numerous class who, in the changeable climate of the Pacific Coast, suffer from inducing and ending in CONSUMPTION, many of whom may not have used this remedy, that they should be allowed to read of some of the cases where its influence has been useful in remedying complaints from which they are suffering. The EXPECTORANT

Operates Immediately upon the Disease,
SURELY AND SPEEDILY ERADICATING IT, while the SANATIVE PILLS, by preserving regularity in the Bowels, and giving a healthy tone to the other internal organs, aid and assist the perfect operation of the former.

Attention is asked to the following Certificates, selected at random from the mass in the possession of the proprietors:

UPPER UWCHLAN, Chester Co. Pa., Sept 15, 1858.
Dr. D. JAYNE—Having been afflicted with ASTHMA and BRONCHITIS, and having the advice of some of the most eminent physicians, whose skillful treatment of my case did not prove to be of any avail, I obtained no relief for my suffering until I commenced the use of your EXPECTORANT. After taking it for about three months, I was entirely cured.
NATHAN PENNYPACKER.

ASTORIA, Long Island, Jan 15, 1860.
L. W. TINSLEY, Esq. New York—Sir: As you well know I had been afflicted with BRONCHITIS, accompanied with the most painful tightness of the chest, and great difficulty in breathing for nearly two months, and I had almost lost all confidence in the power of medical science, when at your friendly suggestion I began the well known (but not enough known) "EXPECTORANT" of Dr. Jayne, of Philadelphia. Three or four days after having commenced to take it, my cough had nearly subsided, the expectoration was easy, and the breathing quite free.
I am now quite another man, and my general health has never been better.
I remain, my dear Tinsill, with esteem, your servant and friend,
J. D. MONTE.

WINFIELD, Tuscarawas Co. O., May 31, 1860.
Dr. D. JAYNE—Dear Sir: One bottle of your Expectorant cured my daughter of the LUNG FEVER, after having been beyond the hopes of recovery. During the attack she had a number of convulsions. She is now perfectly well.
J. H. COFFMAN.

BURLINGTON, Bradford Co. Pa. July 23, 1863.
Dr. D. JAYNE—Dear Sir: My son was for one and a half years afflicted with a disease resembling CONSUMPTION. For two years he was not able to labor. He was finally induced to try your EXPECTORANT and PILLS, and after taking [illegible] bottles and some PILLS was completely cured, and is now able to labor every day. JOHN HENRY.

We would add to the above that we sold to Mr Henry the medicine for his son, and know that the statement is true.
MERRY, WILHELM & CO.

For a greater number and variety of certificates and fuller information regarding these and other of Dr. D. Jayne's and Son's Preparations, reference is given to the ANNUAL ALMANAC, which may be had from any Druggist or Dealer in Medicines.

The Battle of Fredericksburg, May 2d

We find in the correspondence of the New York Times the following recital of the events which transpired near Fredericksburg at the beginning of the great fight between Hooker and Lee. Its interest will excuse its length.

The military situation on Saturday morning therefore, stands as follows. Our main force holds the position at Chancellorsville, confronting the main rebel army now massed opposite us. Howard's corps has the extreme right—then a division of Sickles's corps—then Slocum—then Couch—then Meade on the left. Humphrey's division of Meade's corps holding the extreme of the left. Working parties have been employed during the whole night in throwing up breastworks, and the woods have resounded with the strokes of a thousand axmen felling trees for the purpose of constructing abattis. We hear the rebels not half a mile distant at work with the same view, and in the morning both armies are well entrenched. It will now be who will come out and give battle. Hooker is determined to put forth all the resources of the craft of which he is a consummate master to tempt them out. So much for the right.

Another, though minor force, is working on the left, independently, yet with its direct strategic bearings on the main operation. This subordinate operation is Fredericksburg. Balloon reconnoissances show clearly that the enemy have taken their main force from the heights of Fredericksburg and the line down the Rappahannock, and massed it against us at Chancellorsville. They have also removed the greater bulk of their artillery with the same end, and Gen. Sedgewick, who commands the left, thinks himself strong enough to carry the heights. The Commanding General assents, if there be a good prospect of success, for it is of the utmost importance not to anticipate the golden moment to strike.

Still another co-operative role is assigned the powerful cavalry expedition under Gen Stoneman. This is nothing less than to cut the railroad bridges that cross the two affluents of the Pamunkey—namely, the North and South Anna—less than twenty miles from Richmond. The bridge over the North Anna is 150 feet long and 80 feet high, and cannot possibly be reconstructed in less than a fortnight. You can see how tremendously this will embarrass the rebels. Whether Stoneman has by this time actually performed his task, is not yet reported. I have followed him only as far as Rappahannock Station, south of Culpepper, through which he dashed Thursday night.

This rapid survey will indicate how colossal is the campaign which Gen Hooker has marked out for the army. It contemplates nothing less than the destruction of the entire rebel force in Virginia. It is stupendously daring, but Hooker is a man who thoroughly understands that, in war, to greatly gain one must greatly dare.

The active operations of Saturday comprise a series of attempts in force on the part of the rebels to break our lines at various points, which were in one case partially successful, in another completely successful, and in all the others completely unsuccessful.

In the morning, as we stood on the balcony of Chancellor's house, the attention was arrested by a sharp rattle of musketry coming from a column of rebels coming up by the main Fredericksburg plank road, directly in front of us. Knapp's battery, however, which was planted directly in front of the position, opened upon them, and after a few rounds caused them to retire. Immediately afterwards a battery opened from the height which I have mentioned as having been gained by Sykes, yesterday, and then abandoned by us. The position was rather upwards of a mile distant from the cleared space, and its object was to damage our ammunition train which was visible to the rebels from the tops of trees on the heights. One of our batteries was, however, immediately opened in reply. The third shot blew up one of the caissons and a subsequent shot blew up another; this settled their account. Subsequently a reconnoissance was sent on our part, consisting of the 20th Pennsylvania Volunteers, (Carr's brigade, Berry's division and Sickles' Corps,) on the same road by which the rebels had approached in the morning, for the purpose of feeling their strength. They went out on the plank road, deployed on both sides and the form of the letter V, chased the rebel skirmishers a couple of miles till they came to a heavy double line of battle, with artillery in position, when they retired, bringing us that piece of intelligence. Another reconnoissance was sent out on our right, consisting of Berdan's sharpshooters. They met the enemies pickets, drove them handsomely and at four o'clock returned with 50 prisoners of the 23d Georgia.

At 4 o'clock the rebels are moving down in force on the plank road, where we had a little before made the reconnoissance. Geary's division of Slocum's corps is sent in on the double quick into the woods—their bayonets flashing in the sunlight. A sharp contest ensues, and in a few minutes they come back in disorder. A portion of Kane's brigade, composed of raw troops, had broken and thrown the column into confusion.

An aid from Slocum comes to ask General Hooker if he can have reinforcements. "No he must hold his own. Howard will, of course, support him from the right. Let Geary's division, however, be thrown to the right of the road, so that the artillery may be able to sweep the enemy on the left." This treatment presently repaired the damage and checked the hope of the rebels being able to pierce our centre.

Foiled in this, they now prepared to make a still more desperate dash on our right flank. We were aware that they had been massing against that point all the afternoon, and the terrific treble of the demoniac yell with which the rebels always rush into battle, announced their approach from the woods by the Culpepper plank road. Jackson's whole corps, reinforced by D. H. Hill's division, numbering in all 40,000 men, had precipitated themselves on Howard's Corps, forming our extreme right wing. This corps is composed of the divisions of Schurz, Steinwehr and Devon, and consists in great part of German troops. Without waiting for a single volley from the rebels, this corps abandoned their position behind their breastworks, and commenced coming panic-stricken down the road towards headquarters. Our right was thus completely turned, and the rebels in a fair way of doubling us up.

It was a critical situation, and brought out the superb resources of Gen Hooker. He was in the saddle in a moment, calm and cool—the master of a situation fit to overmaster the most. The first thing was to check the rebel advance, which must become fatal if allowed to go on much further. It was a terribly animated scene. The whole open plain presented such a spectacle as the simoon might make in the desert. Through the dusk of nightfall a rushing whirlwind of men and artillery swept over the plain. The shattered, fleeing columns of men were rushing down and over us at headquarters. Hooker's dispositions were made in a moment. Whom, of all others, should he send in at this fearfully critical moment, but the darling child of his own creation—his own old corps, now commanded by Gen Berry.

"General!" shouted the commander, "throw your men into the breach—receive the enemy on your bayonets—don't fire a shot—they can't see you."

Oh! it was a sight to see that glorious band rush at the double quick to the rescue. Pressing up in their horrid array of glittering steel, the enemy's advance was quickly checked, and he had to withdraw to the line of breastworks just vacated by the Eleventh Corps. Batteries were immediately sent up in thunderous clamor to the front, and Capt Best, Chief of Artillery of Slocum's Corps, massed twenty pieces on the crest near Gen Sickles' headquarters, and a terrific fire was opened on the enemy, and kept up far into the night.

Gen Pleasanton also succeeded in taking back a dozen pieces taken from the flying corps and planting them in a favorable position, while he drew up his little brigade of cavalry consisting of squadrons of the 6th New York, 8th Pennsylvania and 17th Pennsylvania with drawn sabres to protect the guns (a novel sight in battle). Directing the pieces to be double shotted with canister he swept the position occupied by the enemy with a murderous fire. The successful check of the advancing foe is in no small degree owing to the indomitable energy of this gallant soldier.

While this is going on, the panic-stricken Germans are sweeping past us and round by headquarters into the road leading to United States Ford. Many members of the staff of Gen. Hooker and other general officers placed themselves in the road, and with drawn sabres smote and slashed the retreating men. It was all in vain, however. The road for two or three miles down toward United States Ford is now crowded with their shattered fragments. Gen Hooker has however already sent Sykes regulars after them. As to the loss sustained by this corps either in killed or captured it could not have been great—they ran too fast for that. I have the mortification to add that they allowed twelve pieces of cannon to fall into the hands of the enemy. What makes this retreat not only disgraceful, but well nigh disastrous is that it completely foiled a splendid manœuvre which Gen Sickles with his corps was engaged in executing. He had gone in on a branch road leading off from the main pike, pierced the enemy's centre, penetrated for a mile, cut them in two and would have secured the key to victory, when the turning of Howard's position compelled him to make good his retreat, though he brought out with him 400 rebel prisoners!

The artillery combat was prolonged till midnight, and the bursting of the shower of shells thrown by our batteries into the rebels made a spectacle that beggars all description. During the whole crisis, Gen Hooker was under the severest fire, and his staff, made up of young braves, performed prodigies of valor.

The task to be accomplished by the Commanding General during these night watches is one to tax his best energies. The enemy has completely turned our right, is now in our rear, and will, unless prevented, turn this immense advantage to account with the first dawn of to-morrow's light. He will doubtless draw in his line, bringing his right down perhaps to the neighborhood of Ely's Ford. He will replace the cowardly corps that has fled by Meade's Corps, than which there is none better in the army, and reinforce it by that of Reynold's, which is coming up from the left and is now within a couple of hours' march of here. If the enemy resume the attack in the morning, as there is every probability that he will, I predict a reception he is not prepared for.

The conduct of the Commanding General during the whole operations and especially the amazing fertility of resources he has displayed in first checking what was well nigh being a crushing disaster and then making such an arrangement of his line as will render it stronger even than before, give him claims to rank as a first-class captain. He certainly shows powers and qualities that have been displayed by no General who has yet commanded this army. I have seen the cold pedantry of McClellan's mind, and the feeble well-meaningness of Burnside; but here is a man who, while dashing in the extreme, is yet prudent in the extreme, whose resources are inexhaustible, who has, in an imminent degree, that highest quality of a General—that of promptly changing his plans in the midst of battle—who holds the thunderbolts of war in his hand, and wields them at his will.

LEGAL.

U. S. INCOME TAX.

THE LAW CONTEMPLATES THAT EVERY ONE shall pay on all nett profits (less $600) derived from any source whatever. A person is allowed to deduct all legally assessed National, State and County Taxes, hired help, Rents, Drayage, &c., necessary to carry on his business, but no farmer, merchant, mechanic or any person has a right to deduct his own labor as so much expense from his income.

The Income Tax is to be paid on the income of the year commencing January 1st, 186[illegible], so that on the evening of December 31st 186[illegible] everybody should make up a record of their income gains or profits for that year. As [illegible] many sources of income, such as Dividends and Railroad Bonds and Stocks, Insurance Stock, Savings Banks Interest, &c., (they having already paid the income tax) are not again taxed. It therefore becomes necessary to have a clear record of the sources of income that there may be no dispute with the Assessor.

All corporations must deduct the three per centum before declaring their dividends.

For Example:

A man in business must make up the nett profits of his business for the year, and pay the tax on the amount less $600.

A man may, outside of his business, spend all and even more than his profits in the business, nevertheless he must pay tax on all nett business profits except the $600. And so with a salary, all over $600 must be taxed, though personal or family expenses consume it all.

The Income Tax for the year 186[illegible] is assessable on the first day of May 1863, and is due and payable on or before the 30th June 1863. And any sums due and unpaid for thirty days after the 30th June, as aforesaid, and for ten days after demand by the Collector, five per centum will be added to the amount unpaid.

Each individual of any firm or partnership must make up his income separately.

INDUCED by the extensive sale and universal popularity of Hoofland's German Bitters, (purely vegetable,) hosts of ignorant Quacks and unscrupulous adventurers have opened upon suffering humanity the flood-gates of Nostrums in the shape of poor Whisky, vilely compounded with injurious drugs, and christened Tonics, Stomachics and Bitters.

Beware of the innumerable array of Alcoholic preparations in plethoric bottles and big bellied kegs, under the modest appellation of Bitters; which instead of curing, only aggravate disease, and leave the disappointed sufferer in despair.

Hoofland's German Bitters

Are not a new and untried article, but have stood the test of fifteen years trial by the American public, and their reputation and sale are not rivalled by any similar preparation.

The proprietors have thousands of letters from the most eminent

CLERGYMEN,
PHYSICIANS
CITIZENS,

Testifying of their own personal knowledge to the beneficial effects and medical virtues of these Bitters.

Do you want something to strengthen you?
Do you want a good appetite?
Do you want to build up your constitution?
Do you want to feel well?
Do you want to get rid of nervousness?
Do you want energy?
Do you want to sleep well?
Do you want a brisk and vigorous feeling?

If so, use HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

From Rev. J. Newton Brown, D. D., Editor of the Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge.

Although not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in general, through distrust of their ingredients and effects, I yet know of no sufficient reasons why a man may not testify to the benefits he believes himself to have received from any simple preparation, in the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of others.

I do this the more readily in regard to Hoofland's German Bitters, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, of this city, because I was prejudiced against them for many years, under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture. I am indebted to my friend Robert Shoemaker, Esq., for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and for encouragement to try them when suffering from great and long continued debility. The use of three bottles of these Bitters at the beginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before, and had almost despaired of regaining. I therefore thank God and my friend for directing me to the use of them.

J. NEWTON BROWN.

PHILADELPHIA, June 23 1861.

PARTICULAR NOTICE.

There are many preparations sold under the name of Bitters, put up in quart bottles, compounded of the cheapest whisky or common rum, costing from 20 to 40 cents per gallon, the taste disguised by Anise or Coriander Seed.

This class of Bitters has caused and will continue to cause, as long as they can be sold, hundreds to die the death of the drunkard. By their use the system is kept continually under the influence of Alcoholic Stimulants of the worst kind, the desire for Liquor is created and kept up, and the result is all the horrors attendant upon a drunkard's life and death.

For those who desire and will have a Liquor Bitters, we publish the following receipt. Get One Bottle Hoofland's German Bitters and mix with three Quarts of Good Brandy or Whiskey, and the result will be a preparation that will far excel in medicinal virtues and true excellence any of the numerous Liquor Bitters in the market, and will cost much less. You will have all the virtues of Hoofland's Bitters in connection with a good article of Liquor, at a much less price than these inferior preparations will cost you.

ATTENTION, SOLDIERS!

AND THE FRIENDS OF ARMY!

We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that HOOFLAND'S German Bitters will cure nine tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to camp life. In the lists, published almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick, it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility. Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed. We have no hesitation in stating that, if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost.

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life to use his own language, "has been saved by the Bitters."

PHILADELPHIA, August 23, 1862.

Messrs Jones & Evans—Well gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life. There is no mistake in this. It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades, some of whose names are appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am, and have been for the last four years, a member of Sherman's celebrated battery, and under the immediate command of Captain R. B. Ayres. Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties, I was attacked in November last with inflammation of the lungs, and was for seventy-two days in the hospital. This was followed by great debility, heightened by an attack of dysentery. I was then removed from the White House, and sent to this city on board the steamer State of Maine, from which I landed on the 28th of June. Since that time I have been about as low as any one could be and still retain a spark of vitality. For a week or more I was scarcely able to swallow anything, and if I did force a morsel down, it was immediately thrown up again.

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstances; and, accordingly the physicians who had been working faithfully, though unsuccessfully, to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Archer, frankly told me they could do no more for me, and advised me to see a clergyman, and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me. An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital, Mr. [illegible], of Sixth below Arch Street, advised me, as a forlorn hope, to try your Bitters, and kindly procured a bottle. From the time I commenced taking them, the gloomy shadow of death receded, and I am now, thank God for it, getting better. Though I have taken but two bottles I have gained ten pounds, and I feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter, from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months: for, gentlemen, I am a loyal Virginian, from the vicinity of Front Royal. To your invaluable Bitters I owe the certainty of life which has taken the place of vague fears—to your Bitters will I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dearest to me in life.

Very truly yours, ISAAC MALONE.

We fully concur in the truth of the above statement, as we had despaired of seeing our comrade, Mr. Malone, restored to life.
